

College Football Frenzy 2022

Objective of competition: Select seven college football teams that will combine to earn you the most “points” during the 2022 College Football season.

Rules for selecting teams: Each participant will select seven teams that will form your individual portfolio. The preseason Coaches Poll (released Monday, 8/8) will serve as the guideline to selecting five of the seven teams. Each participant will select one team from each colored section in the chart below and then two unranked FBS teams. The two unranked teams in your portfolio are considered your “Wild Card” teams.

How to score points:

Regular Season

- 1 point for each win vs. another FBS (Division 1) opponent
- 0.5 points for each win over a non-FBS opponent
- -0.5 points for each loss vs. a FBS team
- -1 point for each loss vs. a non-FBS team

Additional points will be awarded through conference championships and the bowl/playoff season. Below you'll find the rules that apply for conference championships and bowl games:

- 3 points if your team qualifies for their Conference Championship game, i.e., they win their side of their conference.
- 2 additional points will be rewarded if your team wins their conference championship game.
- If your team plays in a conference that DOESN'T have a conference championship, they will receive 4 points for being the regular season champion of their conference.
- If your team qualifies for a bowl game that is NOT part of the playoff, the Cotton, Orange, Rose, or Sugar Bowl, they will receive 1 point for qualifying, and an additional 1 point for winning the game, for a possible total of 2 points.
- If your team qualifies for the Cotton, Orange, Rose, or Sugar Bowl, they will earn 2 points for qualifying for the game, and an additional 1 point for winning the game, for a total possibility of 3 points.
- If your team qualifies for the College Football Playoff (this year's Fiesta and Peach Bowl games), they will earn 5 points for qualifying for the game, and an additional 2 points for winning the game. Therefore if your team makes it to the championship game, you have earned 7 points. If your team wins the National Championship, they will be rewarded an additional 3 points, for a total possibility of 10 points.

Note: During conference championship and bowl season no additional points will be awarded or subtracted for winning or losing like during the regular season, so if one of your teams won their conference championship game you'd be awarded 5 points not 6 points. Likewise, if one of your teams lost in their conference championship game you'd be awarded 3 points not 2.5 points.

Extra Notes: This is not a "draft," where if a participant selects one team, then another person can't select that team. It is possible for several people to select the same group of 7 teams. If you do select the same seven teams as another participant(s), we will reach out to you individually for a tiebreaker before the start of the season.

Event fees/Winner's compensation: The entry fee is $25. Payment is due via Venmo to Alex Friedman @Alex-Friedman12 by Friday, August 26th at 12PM EST. The deadline for having your team selections submitted to Alex Friedman (afriedman2014@gmail.com / 440-305-4495) is 11:00 PM EST, Thursday, August 25th. Here is how the compensation will break down for the top performing participants:

- 1st place awarded 70% of the total pot
- 2nd place awarded 20% of the total pot
- 3rd place awarded 10% of the total pot

Standings: This year the weekly standings will be accessible via a website which will be provided to participants. The standings will be refreshed weekly every Monday night.

Score Tiebreakers: Tiebreakers will be resolved by selecting the participant who's portfolio has the furthest team, or subsequent team remaining. I.E. national champion, runner-up, college football playoff semifinalist, new years six bowl winner (non-CFP), new years six bowl participant (non-CFP), bowl winner, bowl participant. If there are still participants tied after all of that, the tie will be broken by adding the total mileage of each school making up each participants' portfolios from Columbus, Ohio. Whoever has the shortest distance wins because GO BUCKS!
